KITTIE CLOVER'S KITE.

It's a kite-flying day,
And there's such an array
Of long tailed and short tailed, large kites and small.

That you scarcely can see—
If you are like me—
The delicate shades of the blue sky at all.

Now, if I can remember.
The mouth of September
Used to be the great time for the dying of kites;
And this is October.
Yet children all over
Are illtting about like so many sprites.

Holding tight to the strings.
While the brighteolored things.
Cut scallope and capers, careering on high;
And the long, funny tall.
Gives them ballast to sail.
Like a gul in a race with some cloud of the sky.

One lonely new kite.

One lonely new kite.

And belonged, I was told, to a dear little girl,

Met into, oh, so sad—

It was really to bad—

That the wind should just then make such a big which.

Quite forgetting to guide fler small craft in a tide. Of winds ever veering and shifting, you see the never looked back. To make sure of its track, And so it was caught on the limb of a tree.

'Tis the same the world over,
My dear Kittle Clover—
The lesson of life that everyone learns is, we've got to steer right,
If we don't want our kito,
To be caught in a tree when the changeful wind turns.

concerning three abnormally bright daughters, but all peculiarly consti-tuted and requiring careful treatment. In the hour devoted to rest and re-laxation shouted "Come in!" sixteen laxation shouted "Come in!" sixteen times to sixteen girls, who wanted anything and everything, from the solving of a problem to knowing the hour and borrowing the scissors.

Striking Contrast Between Old Free Trade and Present Protective Times.

and Present Protective Times.
The South Bend Tribune mentions the case of an old carpenter in that city who, on May 8, 1858, did a day's work for one of the local merchants and also bought some goods of him. The bill for the goods was as follows:

...$1 10

The carpenter got $1 50 for his day's work, deducting which from the bill left him in debt to the merchants $2 60. This was in good old Democratic times, under a tariff for revenue only. If the transaction had taken place on May 8, 1832 under Republican protection, the 1892, under Republican protection, the of $1 50, $3 for his day's labor, and his purchase would have cost him $1 25 instead of $4 10. Instead of coming out $2 60 in debt he would have had his goods and $1 48 in cash.

We hear a great deal of talk nowadays about "the good old Democratic times," under a "tariff for revenue only," and it is becoming very wearisome and mo-notonous in view of the facts.

NO one else furnished one pennyin ald of the pretended colonization copy Senator C. J. Faulkner.

Foreign Interest in a Democratic Victory The interest German manufacturers have in the success of free trade in this country is well illustrated in the appeal a Munich paper, the Neuste Nachrichten, makes to German-American voters in its issue of September 11. German-Americans are asked to vote for Grover Americans are asked to vote for Grover Cleveland on the grounds that their doing so will help German manufacturers. The Newse Nachrichten earnestly requests its readers to do their share of the work of influencing the American elections in favor of German manufacturers. Here is the way they are advised to help the party of free trade:

"Every German having relatives, friends or relations in the United States should swad them, latters, not once, but friends or relations in the United States should send them letters, not once, but repeatedly, in which the dismal results of the McKinley bill for us are described. There can be nodoubt that these letters will have the desired effect. The German-American never ceases to love his native land, and those of our old friends and neighbors who have not exactly become official representatives of the Republican party will think it over Republican party will think it over well before easting their votes for Har-rison, and sanctioning thereby the con-tinuation of the McKinley tariff for four years mere."

Foster Conflicted of Victory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—Secretary Foster, secretary of the treasury, says: Foster, secretary of the treasury, says:
"Early in the campaign I gave it as my opinion that Mr. Harrison would carry every northern state. I have since modified this prediction to the extent of excepting Nevada. The People's party may carry that state, but Mr. Harrison will carry all the rest of the north. The registration has practically settled the election. Mr. Harrison is as good as reelected now. He will not lose a western state except possibly Nevada and will carry Indiana, Connecticut, Delaware and almost certainly New York."

A London Opinion.

LONDON, Nov. 1 .- In commenting upon the political situation in the United States the Daily News says: If the election could be decided without reference to party Grover Cleveland's claims would undoubtedly prevail. Mr. Harrison has dealt in feeble spread eagleism. Hehas mischievously checked reform in the civil service. It can hardly be disputed that Mr. Cleveland's was the purer and juster administra-tion. Fortunately both candidates are men of high personal character and either one of them might be selected without shame to preside over the destinies of a great nation.

A CRAZY MANS DEED. He Throws His Daughter in a Well and Shoots His Sister-in-Law.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 1.—Dr. G. W. Kelly, one of the leading physicians of Jefferson county, is in custody at Louisville for killing his sister-in-law, who tried to rescue his eight-year-old daughter after he had thrown the child in a fortyfoot well. Kelly had suddenly become a raving maniac. After being arrested he alternately chuckled fleadishly and mouned as he related in an incoherent way what he had done, deciaring that God told him to kill both to save them from eternal damnation. When the sister-in-law first realized that the doctor was insense he had thrown his little. sister-in-law first realized that the doctor was insane he had thrown his little daughter in the well. With a scream she rushed out of the house to try to save the child. At this Kelly drew his revolver and fired. The woman ran into the house and, seeing no other way of escape, leaped through a window. As she did so the doctor fired again, inflicting a wound in the back. Her screams attracted neighbors, and after a severe struggle the madman was overpowered. Meantime the walls of the child in the well attracted the crowd to that point. By what seems a miracle she had not sunk beneath the water. The bucket was lowered, the child got into it and standing knee deep in water and clinging to the rope she was brought up. The wounded woman died yesterday afternoon, but the child will live.

A Murder Mystery.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 .- The police are anxously looking for J. W. Higleyman, a oung civil engineer, and are strongly young civil engineer, and are strongly inclined to believe that he has been murdered. He made a practice of carrying a large sum of money to his home, Evergreen Park, Tuesday nights, with which to pay off a large force of men on Wednesday mornings. He was seen last Tuesday night to start across the prairie towards his home and has not been seen since. He happened to have no money with him that night, but the supposition is that he was killed by men who thought he would be carrying it as usual.

Breadstuff's ami reovisions.

Breadstuff's and Provisions.

Cincao, Nov. 1.—Except for some talk of a squeeze in corn, the markets to-day were featureless. Wheat opened and closed weak at 1/c deciding from yesterday. December was relatively firm. Pardridge was reported to be covering a considerable about line in that month.

Corn opened strong. There were rumors of a contemplated squeeze in November corn, but in view of the fact that there is nearly 6,000,000 bushels of contract corn here flow and steadily increasing, these fears were not general.

Oats are practically unchanged from last night. Providons dull and lower.

Flour dull and unchanged.
